The Great Tim Horton's "Roll Up the Rim to WIN" Coffee Cup Contest Caper of 2017

Ever notice something odd with your Tim Horton's roll-up coffee cup?

Somebody is using carbon ~~tetrachloride~~ or some other chemical to cheat the game.

Why would I make the accusation that there is some conspiracy in the distribution chain? Simple.
There is.

The evidence

Buy any Tim Horton roll-up coffee and let it cool

Next roll up the entire rim. It takes a small effort to do this except at the location where the prize/non-prize is written. The paper here is always extremely fragile and rolls up with almost no effort, as if it were already unrolled then rolled up again.

The Tim Horton Roll Up the Rim to WIN contest is a scam with all the major prizes having been located and re-allocated to whomever the cheats have predetermined. Enjoy your coffee

Arch Cardinal Diabla von Crappoli

A Homily: Regarding the Apparent Apparitions of the Blessed Holy Mother of God in Medjugorje

Once again, a rather noisy strain of fungus has bedevilled the good girls of sarcasm: in the Balkans, causing them to experience severe religious hallucinations. In particular the apparent apparition of an apparition purporting itself to be de facto, the Blessed Virgin Mary Mother of God.

This time, its the young ladies of the Medjugorje sanatorium whom are livid with the florid fungal infection, primarily on the vaginal scarum. Its most notable feature, other than the typical rank odor usually associated with this fungus is the apparent manifestation of Mary, the Holy Mother of God, who gave blessed foetus to Diabla von Crappoli, who then enlightens the poor deers with some nonsense or claptrap or drivel or other of a religious-sounding nature.

I have instructed our local, lesser regents to guard their thousands of girls. So, once again, always watch thoroughly their at least all kinds of afflictions, such as fungus and such like women with suchers, often with Holy Water and no less than 1000 times for a full hour before inserting their non-soddy virgins.

This generally prevents the spread of the nasty bastardly fungus.
